

Google Docs: Here you can create, share, collaborate, and save documents, resources, etc. on the Internet. <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=UFem3cDgyDA>

Documents: This tab will allow you to create, share, and collaborate using documents, spreadsheets, and presentations.

Task: Enter into Google Docs, create a document of your choosing and share it with me, or one of your fellow classmates using their email address. Once it is shared with you then click in and add something to the document, and chat with them. You should also have a document shared with you called an interest inventory please fill this in and share it with all of your teachers and your mentor.

The screenshot shows a web browser window displaying the Google Drive interface. The address bar shows the URL <https://drive.google.com/a/auglaizeesc.org/?tab=mo#my-drive>. The page header includes the ACE/ESC logo and the user's email address, jkorte@auglaizeesc.org. The main content area is titled 'My Drive' and contains a table of files. The table has columns for 'TITLE', 'OWNER', and 'LAST MODIFIED'. The files listed include a calendar, course request responses, a student info sample, an untitled form, a sample file, a new folder, a tech conference folder, a Google folder, a Northwestern University document, and three BMP image files.
